

Description

Cappello Capital Corp., a boutique investment bank headquartered in Santa Monica (Los Angeles, US), is seeking an investment banking analyst candidate to work primarily for the Australia Desk team, but would also be involved in other firm-wide global mandates. The Australia Desk is headed by Paul Hopper and the team is focused on corporate advisory mandates that have a connection to Australia. For more information about Cappello Capital Corp. and the Australia Desk please go to www.cappellocorp.com.

The analyst candidate should preferably have the following qualifications and attributes:

- At least 2 years pre-MBA investment banking experience
- Experience working in both Australia and the US, and preferably within an investment banking environment
- Knowledge of US and Australian securities law
- Interest in Australia / US cross-border issues
- Robust financial and analytical skills
- Mature written and oral communication skills
- Strong work ethic
- Willingness to be based out of Santa Monica in Los Angeles, USA

Overview of the Cappello Australia Desk:

Cappello's Australia Desk has a focus on long term relationships with our clients, both in Australia and in the U.S., allowing us to optimize results when providing the following services:

- Private Placements of Equity & Debt
 - Public Companies
 - Private Companies
 - Leveraged Recapitalizations
 - Convertible Preferred, Convertible Debt, Common Equity
- Mergers & Acquisitions Advisory
 - Sell Side
 - Buy Side
 - Public to Private
 - Take-over Defense
- Strategic Advisory
- Valuation
- Financial Restructuring
- Debt Exchange
- Debtor & Creditor Advisory
- Distressed M&A

The Australia Desk is supported by the global infrastructure of Cappello Capital Corp., an established boutique investment bank and registered broker-dealer with six global offices in the US and Asia with over 25 professionals, many with extensive cross-border investment banking experience.